

Privacy Policy

We know that you care how your information is used, and we appreciate your trust that we will use it carefully and sensibly. This notice describes our privacy policy. By visiting us, you are accepting the privacy policy described below.

What personal information do we collect?

- Information you provide. We receive and store information you enter. For example, when you enter a tournament, or when you supply information such as your address or phone number. You can choose not to provide certain information, but then you might not be able to take advantage of some of our services. We use the information that you provide for such purposes as entering you in events, responding to your requests, customizing future notices for you, improving our website, and communicating with you.
- Cookies. Nations Baseball pages use "cookies" for their log in protocols. Cookies are small programs that are transferred to your hard drive that allow a program to recognize you and provide you with a customized experience. If you do not want to use cookies, you can easily disable them by going to the toolbar of your web browser, and clicking on the Help button. Follow the instructions that will prevent the browser from accepting cookies, or set the browser to inform you when you receive a new cookie. In addition, you may visit this and other websites anonymously through the use of utilities provided by other private companies. Note: Portions of the website will not work properly without a cookie.
- Computer information. Every computer has an IP (Internet Protocol) address. IP addresses of computers used to visit this site are logged with Nations Baseball. In addition, we automatically collect other information such as email addresses, browser types, operating systems, and the URL addresses of sites clicked to and from this site.
- Information from outside sources. We might receive information about you from other sources and add it to our account information. This information might include updated email and team information from Nations Baseball or other sources so that we can correct our records and deliver your next communication more accurately.

How do we use your information?

- Communications. We may send you communications from time to time, unless you choose to opt-out of receiving such communications. In addition, we might also send you special offers from other companies (rare). If we send you offers from other businesses, we do not share your personal information with them. The offers come directly through us. Please see the Subscribe or Unsubscribe section at the end of this policy for information on opting out.
- Agents. We employ other companies and individuals to perform functions on our behalf. Examples include online payment processing to process credit card and direct bank payments. Only they have access to the financial information needed to perform their functions, and they do not disclose it to us or other parties. Their security measures are extremely high.
- Business Transfers. As we continue to develop our business, we might sell, buy, or merge with other organizations. In such transactions, customer information generally is one of the transferred business assets. Also, in the unlikely event that we are acquired, customer information will be one of the transferred assets.
- Law Enforcement. If we receive a lawful court order to release account or other personal information, then we will comply with the law. We will also release information when necessary to protect the life, safety or property of others.
